

Hi as a resident of Jerauld co and a landowner , a tenant of rented land, and the person who lives in a dwelling with 7 wind towers within a mile and as close as 1050 ft from my house and the recipient of money from the towers that I live by I would hope you would take consideration of my opinions. The 1000 ft setback is a joke after living by towers they just had well be 10 ft from anything on my place the negatives are what they are the noise and blinking lights are not stifled by a 1000 ft plain and simple it needs to be more distance. I wish it would've been a mile set back and then those who wouldn't mind the negatives of the towers could sign a waiver and let them closer to their property. I'm not against the wind energy industry I just didn't fully understand what the negatives were and now it's too late for me but that's why people evolve and learn from mistakes of the past and correct them for the future. There is a way too incorporate towers into communities but it's unfair too set them on or near people residences who don't want them and get all the bad and none of the good. I do not believe there will come a time when there is a tower on ever quarter of land in a county that would be the only way everyone would have the same good and bad of them. As it is now a few benefit and the rest don't

Thankyou for your time
